We treat the world fair, and carry an air of conviction you'll swear when you visit us where our store shows the rare, richest bargains to spare. Our goods always wear, stand all tug and all tear, our profits are bare, we always will dare our stock to compare with all who despair of trying to bear a candle in air to compete with the fair, honest efforts of merchants who deal on the square.

ITS CLAIM.
The "Domestic" is the best Sewing Machine ever made. It has the best wood-work ever used on any sewing machine. No other sewing machine can show as good a record.
These facts are recognized.

THE QUEEN IN LONDON.

Her Majesty Enters London To-Day in State.

Thousands of Regulars, Volunteers and Policemen.

LONDON ABLAZE.

LONDON, May 14.—Is ablaze with excitement this afternoon, the occasion being the visit of the Queen for the purpose of opening the People's Palace at Mile-end. The route selected for the royal progress extends from Paddington station, in the western portion, to Mile end in the extreme eastern division, the limit of distance being about eight miles. The buildings along the entire way are daily decorated, the Irish colors and the stars and stripes being conspicuous in many places. The Queen will reach Paddington station from Windsor at 4 p. m., and accompanied by Prince Henry of Battenberg, and his wife, the Princess Beatrice. The Queen will be met by civic escort, and with her escort will proceed in carriage, escorted by a troop of cavalry. The line of procession will be guarded by ten thousand volunteers and 5,000 regular troops, selected with a view to brilliancy and contrast in their different uniforms. As additions to pageant there will be 10,000 policemen. At Holborn the Lord Mayor and the civic officials will await the Queen's advent into the old city, and after saluting her and formally welcoming her to London, will proceed with her to the People's Palace. The Prince of Wales, the Marquis of Lorne and the Duke of Cambridge will receive Her Majesty the Queen. In her progress to the palace she will pass through a section of London known as the "City" for the first time in many years. Her visit has aroused great excitement in that quarter.

AN AMENDMENT REJECTED.

LONDON, May 13.—Mr. Lockwood, Liberal, moved an amendment, with the object of limiting the operation of the clause to the most serious offences. Attorney-General Webster said the government is unable to accept the amendment. If any one offense was worse than another, against which the clause was directed, it was the conspiracy to boycott. T. P. O'Connor said the government had at last let the cat out of the bag, in admitting that the most stringent powers of the bill had for their object the suppression of boycotting. The amendment was rejected by a vote of 257 to 110.

THE TIMES AGAIN AFFER PARNELL.

The Times has resumed the publication of regular articles intended to show the connection between Parnellism and crime. The article entitled "Behind the scenes in America" is a matter the result of inquiry which the Times says it instituted last summer into the relations between the American Feinians, the Parnellites and the purports of crime. They contain a number of secret records of the Clan na Gael Society, obtained through schism in that society and quarrels among its leaders. Among the documents published are what is alleged to be copies of the constitution of the society, lists of its officers at various epochs, and letters from its past and present leaders; secret circulars and reports of societies and conventions. The Times says its inquiries are not yet complete, for the reason that the society has been reorganized, so that its system of working would become seemingly an impenetrable mystery.

Commenting on the present revelations the Times says it is impossible to doubt that the policy of the Parnellites, and therefore Mr. Gladstone, is ultimately dictated to by the heads of the society and Patrick Ford.

NEWS FROM SEBASTOPOL.

LONDON, May 13.—A dispatch from Odessa says the bankruptcy court is blocked with insolvency cases of old established and hitherto flourishing concerns. Many commercial men would welcome war as infinitely preferable to the present depression.

The submarine cable in the bay of Sebastopol has been cut in several places, and portions of it has been stolen. Only the high military office knew of the existence of the cable.

BAD DROWNING CASE.

MUNICH, May 13.—Another tragedy has just been enacted at Lake Starburg. Two young ladies of Munich, Baronesses rowed in a boat into the spot where King Ludwig, of Bavaria, met his death and deliberately threw themselves in the water and were drowned. Next morning the boat was missed and a search made for the bodies which were found lying in the soft clay clasped in each others arms. Both were pretty, rich and cultivated. They had been suffering from melancholy every since the King's death.

ANTI-CORN LAW LEAGUE.

BERLIN, May 13.—The new German Liberals are forming an anti-Corn Law League. They propose to publish a paper, organize a meeting and provoke an agitation throughout the whole country. Three directors of the glass works at Vallestal have been expelled, having been accused of belonging to the French reserve and drilling their fellow workmen.

RUSSIA'S CREDIT ABROAD.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 13.—It is rumored that Herr Bliebeders, agent on behalf of the largest banking firms in Berlin and four in St. Petersburg, has concluded an extensive arrangement for converting the present outstanding Russian loans into a new issue, with the view of raising the Russian credit abroad.

THE GREAT JEWEL SALE.

PARIS, May 13.—At the crown jewel sale to-day Bonynge, of California, bought the diamond shoulder knot for 25,000 francs.

Carvalho Brothers & Co., west India merchants, have failed. Liabilities very heavy.

NEWS FROM ST. PETERSBURG.

ST. PETERSBURG, May 14.—The press of this city advocates a poll tax on German workmen as a reprisal for Germany's increase in the corn duty.

The English-Afghan boundary commission yesterday with Commissioner Ridgeway have gone to Moscow.

The Czar and Czarina yesterday performed the usual religious ceremony preparatory to a long journey. It is expected they will start for the south to-day.

CRUELTY TO PATIENTS.

VIENNA, May 14.—Count Taafe, Minister of Home Affairs, ordered an inquiry to be made into the charges of cruelty to patients, brought against the management of Krankenhaus. Herr Hoffman, director of the hospital has resigned his position.

CLOSED AGAINST ALL FOREIGNERS.

PARIS, May 14.—At a meeting of the Patriotic League to-day, held to confirm the appointment of M. Sansbaut as president, the latter decided that the League had interfered in the recent election in Alsace-Lorraine, or that the French government had not exercised any pressure upon M. Deroulede, who, he said, remained the honorary president of the League.

The Times protests against the present system of espionage; says it is serious and tending towards making France a sort of China, closed against all foreigners.

METHODIST CONFERENCE.

Candidates for Ordination--General Business in Connection with the Church.

THIRD DAY.

FRIDAY, May 13th.

AFTERNOON SESSION (Continued.)

The death of W. B. Cuyler, stationed at Bella Bella, was reported and a committee appointed to prepare an obituary to be published in the minutes.

Mr. D. Jennings was continued on trial another year.

Messrs. Jas. Calvert and W. H. Pierce were received into full connection with the conference. After the usual examination which was conducted by the general superintendent with very satisfactory result.

Conference adjourned at 6:30.

EVENING SESSION.

A public meeting was held in evening for the purpose of receiving Messrs. Jas. Calvert and W. H. Pierce full connection and preparatory to their ordination to-morrow morning. President Robson occupied the chair. The meeting opened by singing hymn 678 and prayer by the Rev. Mr. Hall. After a stirring address by the chairman Bro. Calvert was called upon to relate his experience and call to the work, which he did very nicely. He was followed by Bro. Pierce, the first native missionary of the province, who related the story of his conversion in an intelligent and affecting manner.

On motion by the Rev. Bowell, seconded by the Rev. Mr. Bryant, it was resolved by a standing vote of the conference that Bros. Calvert and Pierce be received into full connection with conference, and that they be ordained on Sunday next. The mover and seconder of the resolution delivered excellent addresses. After a few earnest and forcible remarks by Supt. Williams, the meeting adjourned.

FOURTH DAY.

SATURDAY, May 4th.

Conference assembled at 9:30 a. m. and opened with singing and prayer by Bro. Kent. President Robson occupied the chair, with Supt. Williams beside him on the platform, to assist the conference in its work.

A communication from the Fort Simpson district to the general secretary of the Missionary Society, respecting mission work on the upper Skeena, was read and referred to the committee on missions.

Bro. G. F. Hopkins, of the Fort Simpson district, who has traveled three years, was continued on trial, and it was resolved that he be ordained for special purposes.

An elaborate address of congratulation to His Honor Lieut.-Governor Nelson, expressing unabated attachment and loyalty to the Queen, was presented by the address committee and adopted.

The committee on memorials reported that they had only considered the memorial from Victoria district in reference to the sale of church property at Maple Bay, and recommended that at present it is inexpedient to dispose of any portion of such property. A memorial from the same district re the sale of church property at Wellington was also considered, but the proposition could not be recommended. Report adopted.

The committee on missions presented their report recommending the formation of a missionary board of the B. C. conference, to consist of the chairman of the several districts and one layman from each district. The board was then elected by the laymen of the conference as follows: For the Fort Simpson District, Wm. Oliver; for New Westminster District, Thomas Cunningham; for the Kamloops District, Harvey Woodward.

A brother drew attention to the fact that one of the newspapers—(the Colonist)—referred to the conference as a "Wesleyan conference," which was incorrect.

Conference adjourned at 12:30 till 9:30 a. m. on Monday.

Territorial Expansion.

The Calgary Tribune has received the following telegraph from Ottawa, and fancies it sees in it some deep laid scheme on the part of B. C. to annex Alberta:

"An Act to Incorporate Alberta and British Columbia has passed its second reading."

If the word "railway" be inserted after the word "Columbia," the true meaning of the dispatch will be made plain. But our contemporary takes a different view and says: "The significance of this paragraph is not very clear. We have heard that British Columbia was making some claim that a portion of the district of Alberta should be included within her borders, but if the above means that a bill has been introduced to make that claim good, this is the first intimation that we have had of it. British Columbia's contention, as we understand it, is that the fifth principal meridian should be her eastern boundary. Calgary lies within those bounds, and there would certainly be something gained by the B. C. people in having the capital of the Pacific Province on this side of the mountains."

Our eastern boundary will have to be defined at an early day, and if Mr. Lewis is only half as successful as Mr. Mowat was in maintaining the rights of his province British Columbia will be awarded a large slice of the grazing territory to the east of the Rockies. We want more agricultural and pastoral lands, and such an extension as is mentioned by the Tribune would give our province every variety of climate and all the natural resources known to any country in the world. But in any event, the capital will remain where it is.

The Tariff.

The duties on cigars and cigarettes have been increased from $1.20 per lb. and 20 per cent., to $2 per lb. and 25 per cent. Buggies, farm wagons, etc., costing less than $30, $10 each and 20 per cent.; costing $50 and under $100, $15 and 20 per cent.; and all costing $100 and over 35 per cent. The above are slightly different from yesterday's figures.

—CLEAR THE TRACK—Give Fendray & Co.'s QUEEN JUBILEE SOAP a show; it is the best ever offered to the public as a laundry and toilet soap combined; try it.*

O'BRIEN IN ONTARIO.

Meets with a Perfect Ovation on His Westward March.

Trouble Feared in Toronto and Precautionary Steps Taken.

PROCEEDINGS IN TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 13.—Following are the resolutions to be submitted to the public meeting to be held in the Queen's Park to-morrow afternoon:

Resolved, That this meeting repudiates the action of William O'Brien in visiting this city for the purpose of exciting hostile feeling against His Excellency the Governor-General, on account of differences between His Excellency and his tenants in Ireland, and desires to express its unabated confidence in the high character of the Marquis of Lansdowne, and his fitness to represent Her Majesty in Canada;

That this meeting looks with perfect confidence to the Parliament of the United Kingdom for a wise and a just settlement of all the questions relating to Ireland.

Mr. O'Brien's friends have not yet succeeded in securing a hall in which to hold the meeting for Tuesday evening. It is likely they will apply for a mandamus to compel the city to comply to its agreement to rent St. Andrew's Hall.

The following despatch from O'Brien was received by President Mulligan from Montreal:

To the Toronto branch of the National League:

"It is of the utmost importance that a public meeting should be held in Toronto, no matter how small. The corporation's breach of the contract only strengthens our position."

A MEETING MUST BE HELD.

The Nationalists having offered a banquet to Mr. O'Brien, he has answered that he would be glad to attend without prejudice to the public meeting, which must take place at all hazards, even if it had to be held in an open square.

O'BRIEN'S RECEPTION.

The date of the Kingston meeting continues undecided. A man named Mason, Grand Master of the Orangemen in this city, is making dire threats that the municipality will be invaded by his brethren. Mr. O'Brien seems less concerned than anybody else regarding such rumors. He only laughs and says, "such nonsense." He will speak at London and Ottawa. The Quebec boat will arrive at Montreal on Saturday morning, and he will remain there until Monday, when his journey to Toronto will be begun. Members of the National League are wild at the reports sent hither from Montreal of Mr. O'Brien's reception there, and allege that government officials tampered with the dispatches. Mr. O'Brien said to an Associated Press reporter to-day: "I never met with such kindness as I have met with since my arrival in the Dominion. Nobody has even so far looked angry at me, let alone being angry. If Lord Lansdowne be arranging for any different condition of things they will come off second best. The cause is bad enough already, but it would be worse then."

LEAVES QUEBEC FOR THE WEST.

QUEBEC, May 13.—To-day Mr. O'Brien, accompanied by several of the most prominent citizens made a tour of the city. He visited the Citadel and the Montmorenci Falls—a picturesque spot. At 2 o'clock the return journey for Montreal was began on the steamer Montreal. An immense crowd gathered on Richelieu Square and as the vessel steamed up the St. Lawrence a salute of twelves guns and a volley from the Winchester rifles were fired from Cape Diamond and the harbor by the Irish residents of that district. The cannon were decorated with bunting and crowds of persons ashore displayed Irish flags as the steamer passed by and cheered until they were hoarse.

AN ESCORT PROPOSED.

MONTREAL, May 14—Wm. O'Brien arrived in the city to-day at 8 o'clock by the steamer Montreal from Quebec. Mr. O'Brien left the vessel at 10 o'clock and thought to escape in a cab unobserved, but as he stepped ashore Pat. Ryan, a policeman, who spoke with a rich Munster brogue, rushed forward and grasped him warmly by the hand, shouting: "May heaven save you sir!" He exclaimed, "I would rather have your little finger than the body and bones of Lord Lansdowne."

The threats from Toronto loom up bigger and bigger; but the editor of the United Ireland and the people here, who are best qualified to judge, assert that they are only made to create uneasiness and alarm. The most significant fact that has yet transpired is the offer of prominent men to send a stalwart body guard of armed men as an escort to accompany O'Brien to Toronto. O'Brien, who is anxious to do nothing that can be construed into violent action, has refused the offer.

Grins from Momus.

Sir John says that although he is quite aged, yet he will never be peer-aged.

Not much in a name.—Cornwall (a wall of grain) should be an effectual barrier against want and hunger, but our ex-Governor, Cornwall, albeit he has been long and sumptuously feeding at the public crib, yet will he give nothing towards the Jubilee Hospital fund—nothing to feed or shelter the sick and poor!

Stock conundrum.—Should our citizens bear the provincial revenue per capita tax, because the government will not Buff its collection any more?

Our Legislature, at its last session, granted a large sum to "foster" and encourage quartz mining, knowing full well that the first big slice of that bonus would go to a certain quartz mine, which would in turn "foster" and greatly encourage its legislative owners and their interested friends. The favored mine is located at Big Slide—a very appropriate name—for the transaction, no less than the place, looks slick and slippery enough for anything.

The generous voters of Cowichan treated the local government to enough "Pioneer Fry" to last for four years, and still the ministry and its organ, the Colonist, are greatly dissatisfied. What hogs some mortals be!

Prisoner Surrendered.

An Hay charged with house breaking, who was out on bail in the sum of $500, was surrendered by his bondsmen (two Chinamen) to-day and is now in the lock up. The flight of Dong Gong has evidently frightened the sureties.

Throwing Lime.

Walter Barry, a young boy, was arrested to-day by Officer Hobson, on a charge of throwing a handful of lime in the face of Louisa Barnewell, a girl.

Chinese Conspiracy Case.

The case of Dong Gong and others, charged with conspiracy, came up before the P. M. and Mayor to-day. Mr. Taylor, on behalf of Dong Gong, who was not present, asked for an adjournment until Wednesday, when he would be able to attend, and that the bail and surties to $1,000 should be extended to that time. Mr. Walls, for the prosecution, suggested that he might have skipped his bail, but that if Mr. Taylor was sincere in his application he could tell the court where his client was and an officer might be sent to see if he was really ill, and if he was he would consent. The absentee was called three times and, failing to appear, the usual endorsement on the bail bond was made. The case was then adjourned until Wednesday, the remaining male prisoner being remanded in custody and the woman released on $2,000 bail, herself in $1,000 and two sureties in $500 each. The police were strongly urged by His Honor to use their utmost endeavors to arrest the two alleged conspirators still at large in order to avoid a possible miscarriage of justice.

What a truly beautiful world we live in! Nature gives us grandeur of mountains, glens and oceans, and thousands of means of enjoyment. We can desire no better when in perfect health; but how often majority of people feel like giving it up disheartened, discouraged and worn out with disease, when there is no occasion for this feeling, as every sufferer can easily obtain satisfactory proof, that Green's August Flower, will make them free from disease, as when born. Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint are the direct causes of seventy-five per cent. of such maladies as Biliousness, Indigestion, Sick Headache, Costiveness, Nervous Prostration, Dizziness of the Head, Palpitation of the Heart, and other distressing symptoms. Our Lumber Abroad.

The Winnipeg Free Press says: British Columbia lumber is taking quite a hold in the city and is becoming a prime favorite with carpenters and cabinet makers for certain classes of work. Large quantities of pine and cedar are being imported and the trade gives promise of developing into quite a business. Its advantage over our local lumber is that much larger boards can be obtained. For instance, a consignment to hand the other day contained a board three feet broad and sixteen long without a flaw or knot in it.

TRANSPORTATION RATES.

A brief reference was made in these columns a few days since to the conference held at Ottawa between Messrs. W. C. VAN HORNE and GEO. OLDS, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, and the representatives from Manitoba, the Northwest Territories and British Columbia, relative to the question of disallowance and the rates of transportation charged by the Canadian Pacific. The interview lasted for some hours, affording all present an opportunity of discussing very fully the whole policy of the Canadian transcontinental line. The fact was brought out at the meeting that this province, so far as rates to interior points are concerned, had just cause for complaint. Messrs. VAN HORNE and OLDS admitted as much, and promised that a revision of the tariff rates would be made and new sheets issued. If this has not been done already there is every probability that in a few days the promise made will be redeemed.

So far as Manitoba and the Northwest are concerned it was demonstrated that the rates of the C. P. R. for all classes of grain were and are much more favorable than are those of the Northern Pacific or the St. Paul, Minneapolis & Manitoba road. The territory traversed by these being very similar. Schedules of rates changed were produced and laid before the meeting, from which it was observed that those of the Canadian line were much lower than the American routes. As these tables are interesting to shippers and others we re produce them in THE TIMES to-day, as well as the letter of Mr. GEO. OLDS, General Traffic Superintendent of the Canadian Pacific.

NOTE.—The population of Minnesota, Dakota and Montana, is about 700,000; that of Manitoba and the Northwest Territories, about 150,000.

As is well known to many of our readers the most strenuous efforts have been made by the people of Manitoba and the Northwest, and especially by the citizens of Winnipeg, to have the monopoly clause removed from the charter granted to the Canadian Pacific Syndicate in 1881, which precludes the construction of any railway running south from the line of the C. P. R. to the boundary. For six long years the subject has been the theme of discussion by politicians and others in Manitoba. When the C. P. R. contract was passing through Parliament Sir JOHN MACDONALD assured the country that Manitoba's progress could not be checked, inforring that as Manitoba was a sovereignty of itself its legislature in the matter of railways would not be interfered with by the Dominion. This was assuring to the settlers there, and so the matter was allowed to rest for a while. However, later on charters passed were disallowed, alarm then took possession of the people, who found themselves helpless and at the complete mercy of the railway company, for competitive routes and rates were out of the question. The Canadian Pacific Railway Company regarded the monopoly clause as one of the most vital and important in its character. It was not to be supposed that so valuable a franchise would be surrendered without a substantial consideration from the government. The disallowance question was the all-important one at the late Dominion election in Winnipeg and Southern Manitoba. It was believed the government would yield to the pressure to be brought to bear by its own supporters, and arrange the matter satisfactory. Not a stone was left unturned in Winnipeg to strengthen the position taken by Messrs. WATSON, SCARTH and DALY on the question. A large and influential representative delegation went to Ottawa and laid their views of the case very plausibly before the railway managers as well as the representatives and the government. Messrs. VAN HORNE and OLDS, however, represented the question from their standpoint, so strongly and so forcibly that it became apparent the disallowance resolutions could not carry, for the government had fully determined to adhere to the monopoly clause and quoted the interests of the C. P. R. Company in this respect. It leaked out in Ottawa that the whole desire of Winnipeg was to create that city into a great distributing and mercantile centre, at the expense of the rest of the country. The cry raised of discrimination in favor of other less favored localities was found to be misleading, as the tables of charges submitted by Messrs. VAN HORNE and OLDS proved to be controvertible evidence in favor of the company.

Manitoba, however, will build an independent line, and that at once, to the boundary, where a connection will be made with the American system. A charter has already been granted under the provisions of a general act passed in 1884, and which was not disallowed within the legal specified time. The people have determined upon this course, and should interference take place the matter will be appealed to the Supreme Court and the Privy Council. It is therefore very likely we shall hear of lively times in and about Manitoba in connection with its railway affairs ere long.

THE NANAIMO CATASTROPHE.

The eastern journals are as full of the Nanaimo colliery disaster as are the papers on this coast. The Toronto Globe, in commenting on the accident and the sentence that "the cause of the explosion is unknown; the tale will probably never be told," says: "So ends the report of the Nanaimo mine horror. The completeness of the disaster is such that it is unnecessary for those interested to declare that 'nobody is to blame.' But for the fire and the destruction of all the men in the pit there would doubtless be, as usual in such cases, a hurry of responsible parties to create an impression that the catastrophe was 'purely accidental.' Dead miners can tell no tales, and a fired mine can give no evidence.

But it is certain without proof, that someone was to blame; and certain that all possible precautions were not taken. It may have been that a miner opened his lamp—if so the disaster was due either to lack of sufficient supervision or to neglect to provide the men with lamps that cannot be opened. It may be that dangerous explosives were used from motives of economy; or that the draft was not sufficient to carry away the fire-damp. But whatever the proximate cause of the disaster it was undoubtedly due to neglect in some form, and probably to neglect of precaution that would have cost money. Strictly speaking there can be no "accident" where the dangerous conditions that produce disaster are all so thoroughly known as in coal mines. What are called "accidents" in such cases are invariably the results of failure to provide safeguards enough. "We didn't think there could be the slightest danger of that," is always said about the very thing that brings death and ruin. And the answer is that men in authority are bound to think and bound to provide. Moral responsibility exists somewhere, all the same, though responsible persons may be ruined and their hearts sore for the dead men in the pit and the wives and children bereaved."

RECONSTRUCTING THE CABINET.

Sir JOHN MACDONALD'S scheme of dividing up the Cabinet and portfolios after the British fashion does not meet with unanimous approval from the Conservatives in the east. This is not a party question, for there are many Liberals who are of the opinion that this plan should have been adopted from the first. There are others who see in the movement a plan for creating new offices, holding more members of Parliament under control and generally making the machinery of government more expensive and more cumbrous. There is to be a new Cabinet Minister called the Minister of Trade and Commerce, and the two former departments, that of Revenue and Customs are to be in the charge of an under secretary who will be a member of Parliament, and go out of office with the ministry of which he is a member. These two departments have always been more or less offices subordinate to the Finance Minister, and do not require the superintendence of a cabinet minister. The question for the moment speculated upon is as to what department Mr. MACKENZIE BOWELL will take, for no one supposes he will cease to be a cabinet minister, and what Sir JOHN will do with Mr. COSTIGAN. It is an open secret that the Conservative party would be glad to be relieved of him as a cabinet minister, but he is a little dangerous to touch, a kind of a political porcupine as it were. In addition to these changes there is to be a Solicitor-General, also a minister, but not necessarily a cabinet officer—probably not—and not necessarily a member of the House of Commons—probably he will be in the Senate while the Minister of Justice is in the Commons. The net result as to the members will be the decrease in numbers of one cabinet minister and the addition of two under-secretaries and a solicitor general.

YALE STUDENTS' ROOMS

ADORNED IN THE MOST ELEGANT AND LUXURIOUS MANNER.

Extravagance in Decoration Not Safe for the Convivially Inclined—Another Side to the Picture—A Type of the Other Extreme—Living Economically

In spite of the prominence which the sons of rich men hold, there is a well-defined spirit to suppress any attempt at flashy display. Most men dress fashionably, but very few exquisitely, to use that word in a well-understood sense. The style of a student's apparel has, however, certain characteristics that make it distinctive. That wherein the affluence of a student's allowance first asserts itself is the furnishing of his apartments. These consist of a study and two small bedchambers, usually occupied by two friends. Many of these rooms are adorned in the most elegant and luxurious manner. The walls are decorated with lincrusta, with frieze and dado of tasteful design. Smyrna rugs cover the floor of tesselated woods, and high-art furniture, with satin upholstery and expensive tapestries, is ranged about the room in graceful negligence.

On the walls hang paintings and engravings with subjects best calculated to appeal to students' taste. The Queen Anne mantel is full of costly bric-a-brac, and the space not occupied by these fantasies is filled with programmes, German favors, barber shop signs, prizes, society plaques, trophies, photographs of "conquests," and the host of other mementoes of events dear to the college student.

RATHER DANGEROUS FOR THE CONVIVIAL.

It must not be supposed, however, that extravagance in decorating apartments carries with it, necessarily, the idea of prodigality or fastness. There is nothing in the possession of handsome surroundings that should induce a student to forsake his scholastic pursuits. It very often happens that elaborate quarters are occupied by a man of most correct and studious habits.

It is really rather dangerous for a man of convivial tendencies to adorn his room expensively. It frequently occurs that a company of hilarious guests will transform a collection of Parisian statuettes into an array of reminiscent torsos; satin-covered couches will, under their effusive influence, assume the doubtful designs of Gobelin tapestries, Smyrna rugs will take on the mysterious weaving of an Indian shawl and valuable paintings will acquire peculiar blotches and blemishes that bury its authenticity in a mysterious gloom that ought ordinarily to enhance the worth 100 fold. It has happened within the memory, too, of one of the youngest inhabitants of Yale, that an occupant of a $2,000 suit in Farnum, entertained a gathering of classmates at "an evening tea," and when he awoke the following afternoon he sent for a teamster to haul away the debris and spent another $1,000 in refurnishing his quarters.

ANOTHER SIDE TO THE PICTURE.

But it must be said in mere justice that the style of adorning quarters at Yale is as a general thing not near so extravagant as that prevailing at some other universities. Three thousand dollars expended on rooms in Matthews or Weld at Harvard is quite an ordinary proceeding. In Beck hall there are several suits, the adornment of which entailed an expenditure of $10,000, $12,000 and even $20,000. In the latter dormitory there is at present a young man—from California probably—who has his furniture insured for $15,000.

There is another side to the picture. Up under the roof of East Divinity hall the reporter saw a room that may serve as a type to the other extreme. There was no carpet on the floor; the furniture consisted of three straight-backed chairs, an old-style lounge covered in green oil cloth and a large home-made table. Upon the board placed above the fire-place to serve as a mantel were some old books, two half-consumed candles and a clock with a dismal tick-tock.

There was not a picture on the walls—nothing anywhere to relieve the dullness of the place excepting a blue flag that long under the dirty, unused gas-fixtures and indicated that the occupant of the den had once rowed a successful oar in the class boat races. The occupant sat at the table straining his eyes in the twilight over the pages of the philosophical essays of somebody or other. It was plain that his scrupulous economy restrained him from lighting the rickety German lamp as long as there was a single ray of daylight with which to pursue his work.—New York World.

SIGHTS SEEN AMONG THE KOREANS.

A Journey to Seoul—Ways of the Natives—Ten Men, Two Shovels.

The journey to Seoul would be pretty tedious were one's eyes not so constantly attracted by strange and novel sights. Everywhere one sees tall and stately Koreans clad in thin, holiday-looking, flowing robes of white, purple, green or blue. The outer robes are, in the case of the needies, fairly clean, but, like charity, they cover a multitude of sins. For Korean undergarments, like Korean cuticles, are seldom on friendly terms with water. The people seemingly have little or nothing to do. When at work they rarely bestir themselves so hastily as to endanger the safety of their two-feet pipes, which both men and women are constantly smoking. Imagine the following scene, witnessed by us on our road to Seoul.

A small field, perhaps fifty by seventy-five feet, ten men, two shovels, two long ropes, about an inch and a half in diameter. Each shovel blade was about the size of a dirt shovel-blade in America. The handle was twelve feet long. The rope was tied about the handle six inches above the blade. One man had hold of the handle and fixed the blade in the ground, two others were grasping each end of the rope, making five men in all. At a given signal all four would give a huge tug. Result, a small clod of earth thrown from six to ten feet. It was a sight never to be forgotten, these ten men manning two shovels. One lusty Irishman would do more in a day than these ten in a week, with their frequent pestings.

From Chemulpo to Seoul the soil is not very good, but it is fairly well cultivated. A league this side of the city the road crosses the Han river. Here is a sight never to be forgotten—the lofty bank rising in steps from the water's edge crowded with noble looking men lazily smoking their long pipes, lounging about in every attitude; the huge, clumsily-built, but skillfully-sculled ferry-boats, and the few women of the lower classes busily engaged in washing the outer garments of their lordly husbands, while above all stretched the tiled roofs of the mud huts, giving a very picturesque relief to the background of rugged mountains not far away. From this river the road gradually ascends to Seoul, and winds through a succession of crowded villages and towns. One may travel all over the country yet if he leave out Seoul he has not seen real Korea.—Cor. Inter Ocean.

A Valid Excuse.

"My dear," said the elder lady, "you should have thanked that gentleman who so kindly gave you his seat."

"My failure to thank him, mamma, was because of consideration for him. He may have a wife and family dependent upon him."

"I don't understand, my dear."

"You see, mamma, I feared the shock might be too great for him."—Pittsburg Dispatch.

Catarrah, Catarrhal Deafness and Hay Fever.

Sufferers are not generally aware that these diseases are contagious, or that they are due to the presence of living parasites in the lining membrane of the nose and eustachian tubes. Microscopic research, however, has proved this to be a fact, and the result is that a simple remedy has been formulated whereby catarrh, catarrhal deafness and hay fever are cured in from one to three simple applications made at home. A pamphlet explaining this new treatment is sent free on receipt of stamp, by A. H. Dixon & Son, 305 King street West, Toronto, Canada.—Christian Standard. *

Prof. Sorge Heard From.

Prof. Sorge writes THE TIMES from Portland in reference to his departure from this city. He says that he left Victoria completely broken down in health. He went to Port Townsend, expecting there to meet his eldest son, who was on the ship Arethusa. After waiting there some days he says: "I am informed by my son that the ship was at Astoria, and would then go to Portland, where I followed. I am informed that I am charged with defrauding the janitor of the theatre, and a dentist (Mr. Hartman). Referring to the former, Mr. Davies came to me from Mr. Jennett, who was at Seattle, and wished the money. I at once paid him and have forwarded the receipt by this post to Mr. Goodwin, who will confront Jennett and Davies. Respecting Mr. Hartmann, he heard that my son wore an artificial plate and asked to see him. He then said he could make a considerable improvement upon it. I thought the one he had answered very well; it had cost $30 only twelve months previously. But he persisted; as he was anxious to put in practice a theory of his own. Reluctantly I consented, he guaranteeing he would make no charge unless successful, and if successful only a minimum charge for labor. I said I would not give more than $50. The plate was made three days before I left. He sent me no bill, but I sent him a cheque for $35. You may judge of my astonishment when I received a bill from him two days since for two hundred dollars. I have no hesitation in say that such a charge is a shameful attempt at extortion, and one I will not pay. Upon my return I will hand him the balance of my part of the agreement, the balance of the $50. If he is not satisfied he "can take his remedy in law." In justice to the professor we give room to the foregoing explanation from him.

Astonishing Success.

It is the duty of every person who has used Boschee's German Syrup to let its wonderful qualities be known to their friends in curing Consumption, severe Coughs, Croup, Asthma, Pneumonia, and in fact all throat and lung diseases. No person can use it without immediate relief. Three doses will relieve any case, and we consider it the duty of all Druggists to recommend it to the poor, dying consumptive, at least to try one bottle, as 80,000 dozen bottles were sold last year, and no one case where it failed was reported. Such a medicine as the German Syrup cannot be too widely known. Ask your druggist about it. Sample bottles to try, sold at 10 cents. Regular size, 75 cents. Sold by all Druggists and Dealers, in the United States and Canada. *

A Popular House.

Among the many hotels in the city there are few more popular than the Brunswick, now owned by Mr. W. E. Osterhout, who bought out his partner, Mr. William Prout, about a month ago The entire building has been thoroughly renovated—cleaned, calcimined papered and varnished—and new beds and furniture have been added throughout. It is practically a new place, and as the charges are extremely moderate it is not surprising that the accommodation (for fifty guests) is sometimes found insufficient. There is no bar, which to many is a still greater attraction.

Beach and Hanlan.

Beach on the 7th inst., signed the articles for a race with Hanlan on the Nepean river, on November 26th, for £500 a side. A sculling race is being arranged at Sydney which will be open to the world and take place in November. The entrance fee will be £100 for natives and £50 for English and American oars men. First prize, £700; second, £200, and third £100.

Mr. Duncan in Boston.

Rev. W. Duncan, of Metlakahtla, was in Boston recently, and addressed a large audience in Trinity Church on the subject of his missionary labors among the Metlakahtlans. He seems to be still determined to take his wards into Alaska if he can procure land from the American government, a promise of which he has not thus far been successful in obtaining.

The Lewis Morrison Co.

Mr. Lewis Morrison, and his dramatic company closed their brief engagement at the Gillis Opera House last night says the Kansas City Journal, with a presentation of Faust. The play is supposed to follow closely the version of the best translation. The Faust of Goethe is too metaphysical and too allegorical to make it easy work for an ordinary combination. When taken in hand by Henry Irving in his own theatre, where he can command the aid of museum, electricity and every possible scenic delusion, it is feasible to convert the drama into a great mediæval pageant. "Faust" is conducted by "Mephistopheles" to the summit of the Hartz mountains—the Brocken—and there is supposed to be held the revels of the lost spirits, and to be shown at last his own work, "Marguerite" wandering in space. As the two stand together, the devil reviews the evils of life and the poem takes the form of an allegory. This Brocken scene has become famous in London, and has called to its aid every possible scenic contrivance. Last evening it was worthy of Mr. Morrison's keen ability. The stage setting was all right and the congregation of "witches, wizards, demons, ghosts, nondescripts and fiends" was remarkably wierd. Other scenes were beautifully set, especially "The Square of Fountains, Nuremburg," and "The Garden of Marguerite." It is seldom that any company travels with such handsome sets. Mr. Morrison makes "Mephistopheles" more like the devil of Goethe than is usually depicted by opera singers. That is, he carries with him less of his hoofs and horns and of his interference with the affairs of men. There were some scenes last night worthy of special mention; the one involving the students in the plaza of Nuremburg and the tableau of "Valentine's" death, closing act third in the Square of the Fountains, Nuremburg.

Dong Gong.

The Chinese conspirator, Dong Gong, who has apparently jumped his bail, is a notorious character. He was at one time a prominent Chinese merchant in Portland, and professing conversion to Christianity was employed as a missionary. He afterwards recanted and went back to his old life, and is now engaged in the nefarious business of procurer of Chinese women for immoral purposes. This trade, when successful, as it too often is, is a very profitable one, an ordinary woman selling for $1,200 or more. The attempt to get possession of Too Fah for this purpose, having failed, Dong Gong found himself in the grip of the law and believing that it was closing firmly around him, and that he might find himself shortly inside of the walls of the penitentiary, he is believed to have taken French leave of our city, leaving his bondsmen to pay $1,000. The fact that such an infamous traffic is attempted in a British province by these people shows the necessity for greater vigilance on the part of the authorities. Were a like attempt made upon the liberty of a white woman, the whole country would ring with indignation, and swift punishment would assuredly overtake the villains engaged in what, in this instance at all events, was a bare-faced attempt to legalize kidnapping.

Generous Donators.

"One touch of nature makes the whole world kin" is an old adage the truthfulness of which is being daily verified. From every direction on the coast comes the news of a generous spontaneous response to the appeal made for assistance for the relief of the widows and orphans at Nanaimo. Contributions are pouring in from every direction. The indications are that the fund will amount to a considerable sum. All that the relief committee can procure, however, will be required, for the distress is really great and the wants of the widows, the fatherless and the orphans is pressing, to say nothing of those who were depending on the earnings of some bread-winner who is now no more. Yesterday ex Con. Lippett was notified by Mr. Ralph Switzer, of Portland, to pay into THE TIMES' fund the sum of $10. This donation is a generous one. How many more will respond equally as generous. "The Lord loveth a cheerful giver."

CARD TO THE PUBLIC.

Gross Misrepresentation.

We have both written and oral testimony going to prove beyond a question, that Hutcherson has been taking orders in British Columbia for Nursery Stock, based upon the statement that he was agent for the Fonthill Nurseries, and was selling for Stone & Wellington of Toronto.

Now we emphatically deny ever having authorized Hutcherson to do business for us in any way, and if it is proved that said Hutcherson is continuing these deceptions upon the people he will be prosecuted to the extent of the law.

We wish the people of British Columbia to understand that we are here to do business for years to come, through our Manager, Mr HIRAM CLARK, located at Victoria, and that all his authorized agents will be furnished with certificates of their agency, that the people may be protected against frauds. All orders will be filled with first-class stock and true to name, with a view to giving entire satisfaction to all our patrons.
